REVENUE RESET
Executive Coach Preparation Exercise

Before we begin, take a few moments to reflect on your year so far. All answers are valid. The purpose is to arrive with greater awareness, intention, and clarity.

1. What are you most proud of creating in your coaching business during the year so far?

2. What business result would make the biggest difference in your life and business over the next 90 days?

3. If nothing changed over the next six months, what would concern you most?

4. What aspect of your coaching business currently feels strongest?

☐ Confidence

☐ Context (Offer & Positioning)

☐ Conversations

☐ Consistency

☐ Other: _____

5. What aspect currently deserves the most attention?

6. If we were speaking 90 days from today and you described this workshop as transformative, what would have happened?

7. What would you like Karen to help you see differently during the Revenue Reset?

Take a moment to honor how far you've come and acknowledge what is now possible.

Bring these reflections with you to the Revenue Reset. They may reveal more than you expect.

If you'd like support interpreting what you've discovered, I invite you to send your completed exercise to Katie at katie@quickstartintensive.com.

She'll review your responses and help you identify which opportunity may create the greatest acceleration in your business moving forward.
